

The Greatest Beer Run Ever* by John Donohue

1. What was your favorite part of the book? Your least favorite?
2. Did you race to the end, or was it more of a slow burn?
3. Which scene has stuck with you the most?
4. What did you think of the writing? Are there any standout passages?
5. Would you want to read another book by this author? Are you looking forward to the movie based on this book?
6. Did reading the book impact your mood? If yes, how so?
7. What surprised you most about John Donohue's story?
8. What were you expecting when you picked up The Greatest Beer Run Ever? Did the book meet your expectations or was it entirely unexpected?
9. If you could ask the John Donohue anything, what would it be?
10. How does the book's title work in relation to the story? If you could give the book a new title, what would it be?
11. Is this book overrated or underrated?
12. How did the story impact you? Do you think you'll remember it in a few months or years?
13. Who do you most want to read this book?
14. Are there lingering questions from the book you're still thinking about?
15. Did the book strike you as original? Do you think you would (or would have) ever do something like Donohue did?
16. Did this book make you want to explore Vietnam, the war, or how returning soldiers were treated more?
17. What were your impressions on the author's style? Did you find the book easy to read, or a slog?
18. Of all the information presented in the book, what has stayed you the most?